Alcona drops district thriller in Frankfort

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

The bigger the game, the bigger the heartbreak.

Friday night's Division VIII district championship football game between Alcona and Frankfort was as big as they get. Unfortunately, for the Tigers, a last second touchdown by the host Panthers led to a 38-34 season-ending loss for the Tigers.

"As the clock hit zeroes, my heart was aching for those young men, who for 48 minutes battled with all they had," Alcona head coach Jason Somers said. "Then, there comes the reality that these kids, as a unit, will never take the field together again."

Though the Alcona varsity football team lost in the end, it wasn't without a strong effort from the team against a talent-laden and undefeated Panther squad.

Trailing 30-26 with just over four minutes left to play, Alcona put together its most gallant drive of the season.

The possession started on its own 45-yard line but was nearly derailed right off the bat, as the Tigers were forced into a fourth-and-four situation on the Frankfort 49. The fourth down play saw quarterback Alex Stephenson pitch the ball to the left to workhorse running back Brock Franklin, who was met by the Panther defense. Franklin churned his legs for extra yardage and got just enough for a first down to extend the Tiger drive at the Panther 45.

A pair of short running plays set up a third-and-two for Alcona, which Stephenson converted himself when he ran a quarterback-keeper to the left side of the line for seven crucial yards to the 30.

The next play saw Franklin take another pitch to the left side of the field, this time he broke a pair of tackles and rumbled his way down the sideline to the 15, where he was forced out-of-bounds with 1:35 left to play.

A pair of shorter runs by Franklin set up a third-and-three at the eight yard line and Stephenson converted for the first down on another keeper, this time getting to the three with just under a minute left to play.

On the next play, Franklin took a hand-off and after a quick cut to the left he bulled his way in for his fifth touchdown of the night. Franklin also broke his way through for the two-point conversion, giving the Tigers a 34-30 lead with 53 seconds left to play.

"I was excited for our kids (at this point)," Somers said. "They had battled and put themselves in a great spot. I thought, here we go."

The Panthers were far from down however, as they took the ensuing kickoff 20 yards to start their final possession at their own 40 with 46 ticks left on the clock.

Frankfort quarterback Tige Stockdale completed a pair of short passes on his first two attempts to get the Panthers to the Alcona 35 with 32 seconds to go.

The Tiger defense made a play next. Lucas Wise knocked down a Stockdale

Smokey Bear has found a home just in time to hibernate for winter. The Lincoln Field Office of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will be Smokey's permanent home now that all of the details have been worked out. Smokey has been a "work in progress" for the last four months as his details have emerged from what was once a "problematic" white pine on the property of the field office. According to DNR Fire Officer Roger MacNeill, Smokey stands on a three foot pedestal, is roughly 12 feet high and is tucked in behind a beech tree. MacNeill had a vision of Smokey in that location for quite a while and with the efforts of Gary Griffith of Griff and Sons Tree Service and Joel Ostrander, a chain saw carver from Mikado, it has become a reality. Gary Griffith took limbs and the top off of the white pine and Ostrander made repeated visits carving Smokey from the pine tree. "This was just an idea I had and it worked out nicely. It is truly a beautiful Smokey," MacNeill said. "I gave Joel a bookmark to work with... he did an absolutely fantastic job. We are super pleased. I really appreciate and thank Gary and Joel for all of their hard work and due diligence to make this happen." MacNeill reminded residents and visitors that Smokey always promotes fire prevention and "any time the ground isn't snow covered, a burn permit is needed. Anyone using a fire for heat or cooking doesn't need a burn permit," MacNeill said. See the website: Michigan.gov/burnpermit to get a permit online or by calling (866) 922-2876. Courtesy photo.

Health Insurance Enrollment

Open Enrollment for 2017 health insurance plans through the Health Insurance Marketplace at healthcare.gov, otherwise known as "Obamacare" started November 1. Anyone signing up for new coverage or want to switch to a new plan that begins at the first of the year, will need to do so by December 15. The Open Enrollment period will remain active until January 31, 2017.

All of the insurance companies that were offering plans in the area last year are still actively offering plans through the Marketplace for 2017, according to Barbara Porrett, marketing and community outreach manager for Alcona Health Center. "Premiums are, indeed, on the rise, but the amount of an increase in our region again does not track with some of the large increases that are being reported nationally. It is also important to note that for a significant amount of households, financial help is available to help," she said.

She explained consumers are encouraged to check into the Marketplace for themselves to find out information based on their individual scenario. "If you have concerns about your premiums and tax credit or need help with your application or enrollment process, free confidential help is available. You may contact your local community health center or health department or visit localhelp.healthcare.gov to find in person assistance near you," Porrett said.

pass, setting up second down with 25 seconds remaining.

It was that play that doomed the Tigers, as Stockdale took the snap, looked around to his receivers that were covered down field before finding running back Griffin Kelly for a screen-pass in the middle of the field.

The speedy Kelly turned around and sprinted towards the goal line, narrowly beating a host of Tiger defenders to the end-zone for the game-winning score with just 13 seconds left. Frankfort also added the two-point conversion to make its lead 38-34.

"They had a couple of passes completed earlier in the possession, so we decided to bring some extra players to the quarterback and they had a call on for that," Somers said. "It's always tough losing on a final play and in the playoffs it's magnified by the fact they your season ends."

The Tigers did get off one play on offense, though a long pass was intercepted, allowing the Panthers to run out the rest of the clock and officially end Alcona's season.

"In this game, the thing that stood out the most was the resilience of our 26 players," Somers said. "These guys never let the game plan go, they stuck to it, believed in it and in each other and gave an effort that would have made any coach happy."

It was no surprise to those in attendance that the game came down to the wire, as the contest was seemingly back-and-forth the entire night.

A costly fumble by Alcona on the first play of the game gave Frankfort possession of the ball just 13 seconds in, which it converted into points on a seven play 37-yard drive on a short touchdown run by Kelly.

Trailing 6-0, the Tigers showed their teeth and answered with a 13-play, 71-yard drive that took up most of the first quarter, capping it off with a 15-yard touchdown run by Franklin. A failed two-pointer left the game 6-6.

Frankfort was in a giving mood on its next drive, as it fumbled the ball away to the Tigers, thanks to a hard-fought recovery by Raymond Betz at the Frankfort 37.

It took just four plays for Alcona to score the next time, getting Franklin to find paydirt from 24-yards out, with Franklin also running in the two-pointer for a 14-6 lead with six seconds to play in the opening quarter.

Frankfort's next drive stalled on fourth down thanks to a pass breakup by Stephenson and Jack Hutchinson. After that, the two sides traded punts on each of their next possessions. Frankfort did score late in the half on a six-yard keeper by Stockdale, with Stockdale also running in the two-point conversion to make it 14-14 at the half.

"I knew that both teams were capable of that type of performance and it was a great effort by both squads," Somers said. "We had a few costly errors in the first half, but all in all I was pleased with the execution on both sides of the ball."

Frankfort drew first blood in the second half and took a 22-14 lead early in the third quarter, but another lengthy Alcona drive and short Franklin touchdown run brought it to within 22-20 after the third.

The Tigers remained down by two points into the fourth quarter, where they put in a four-yard touchdown run by Franklin, where he had to break a pair of tackles near the line of scrimmage before sprinting in to put his team ahead 26-22.

Frankfort answered with a short fourth-down passing touchdown from Stockdale to Conner Smith, giving the Panthers a 30-26 lead with 4:07 left to play.

In total, Franklin ran for 252 yards and five touchdowns on 45 carries. Stephenson rushed 10 times for 42 yards and completed two passes for 35 yards.

On defense, Dresden Parkinson led the way with 14 tackles. Tommy Mayes had 10 tackles and one sack and Devon Mills had nine tackles.

Alcona finished the season 9-2 overall and was the North Star League Big Dipper champion. The Tigers also won their second ever playoff game over AuGres in their playoff opener, and came seconds away from winning the program's first ever district championship.

"My final thoughts are that we are saying good bye to six seniors (Franklin, Zac Ayers, Parkinson, Dakota Oke, Wise and Betz) that have meant a great deal to this program. They have served as great role models to our younger players and now, hopefully, they will use lessons learned to be great men. As far as next season is concerned, we will be ready to get more young men prepared to be successful on and off the field," Somers said.

Memories of hunting in the big woods

By Gregg Schefferly
Outdoor Columnist

Deer hunting has come a long way since I first started hunting the elusive whitetail buck. Prior to being old enough to hunt, I can still recall my excitement of waiting to hear how my father did hunting. There were no cell phones back then, not even a landline at camp, so the waiting was unbearable. It wasn't uncommon to have to wait at least two or three days before my dad would drop by from camp. I couldn't wait to look into the back of his pickup to see the buck he bagged.

Before I was old enough to hunt I built a brush blind near our house so I could sit, hoping I would see a deer, maybe even a buck, walk past my stand.

I remember when my family leased 80 acres so we all would be able to hunt. The anticipation and excitement of scouting the woods with my dad looking for my first hunting spot is still etched in my memory. Dad explained to me how the layout of the woods affected deer movement. We'd chose a spot in some tag alders on the edge of the swamp and, conscious of the prevailing wind, we'd clear shooting lanes and build a brush blind.

Once the spot was prepared and the blind was built, we had to wait for time to pass for the opener. When I started out we had to wait until we were 14 years old to hunt and, had to wait until November 15 to gun hunt.

Just prior to the opener we went to Kmart in Alpena to buy a pair of Sorel boots and a massive six volt plastic flashlight. The thing was almost as big as a coffee can and was noisy as a result of the battery rattling inside it. Hand-me-down hunting clothes were rounded; I got clothes that were my dad's and grandfather's. I'll never forget the smell of the old wool coat, my dad's wool hat and the weight of my grandfather's knife.

Exploring the Outdoors

I can vividly remember buying my first hunting license and listening to older hunters at the sporting goods store talk about the bucks they'd been seeing. Visiting hunting camps on November 14 added to the excitement and I hardly slept the night before. That first adrenaline rush of buck fever when I shot my first buck was unlike anything I'd ever experienced.

Things have changed so much the last 30 plus years. Today, we carry phones with us into the woods from which we can call, text and even take and send pictures or videos of deer we see and the big buck we shoot. Now, I look through my old photo albums and realize that more important than the bucks in those pictures are the people in them. Friends, uncles, grandfathers, and cousins who are no longer sitting around the table at camp telling deer stories. They are all missed, but their stories live on.

Digital trail cameras have added a lot of excitement to hunting. Many hunters use them and nothing keeps a hunter in the woods longer than having photos of a big buck that's frequenting a game trail or food plot on their property.

When I started hunting we shot any buck we saw -- if it had a three inch spike it was fair game. At that time shooting a doe was frowned upon. Today, we shoot more does than bucks. As a result of many hunters passing on one and a half and two and a half year old bucks we get to observe smaller bucks chasing does around our stand and witness things many of us had never seen prior. More years than not that old buck doesn't show, but the things we see while in the woods are memories to cherish.

Over the years I've enjoyed watching bobcat, coyote, and even a black bear cross my shooting lane. I've even had a chickadee land on my shoulder and peck my ear. Seeing a buck breeding a doe and watching a family of otter swim up to me in the marsh are all memories I'll forever cherish.

Every hunting season adds new memories... As for this upcoming season -- judging by the number of deer I have seen traveling the back roads with my binoculars and spotting scope this past September and early October, the firearm season should be a good one. Deer numbers seem to be very high. I observed a lot of bucks and have seen more mature bucks this year than I've seen in years.

Judging by reports I'm receiving, the rut should be going full steam by the time the season opens on November 15. Bucks were still running together as of November 5 and hunters haven't been reported seeing too many rubs or scrapes as I write this. I believe with the hunter's moon on November 14 this year, the rut should be peaking at just the right time. The full moon will have a lot of deer moving during the night, but don't let that get you down; hang tough because when the does are in heat the bucks are on the move 24/7.

Don't give up or get discouraged because hunting is a game of patience. Last year, the first few days of season were fairly slow for a close friend and his father (who is in his 80s); only a few does and small bucks were sighted. On November 19 a warm bed was feeling pretty good and it was all they could do to get up on the fourth morning. It was around 9 o'clock that morning when the season for them became one that will be told in stories forevermore.

My friend spotted a doe in heat crossing a shooting lane

SENIOR LIFESTYLES

Incentive trusts can motivate your heirs

Dear Savvy Senior,
 What can you tell me about incentive trusts? I have two adult children that are financial disasters. Before I die, I want to put some type of requirements in place that they will need to follow in order to receive their portion of my estate. Otherwise, they'll blow it all in the first year.

Troubled Parent

Dear Troubled,
 If you want to influence your family members even after you're gone, an incentive trust is definitely an option to consider.
 An incentive trust is an estate-planning tool designed to help prod your heirs in a direction you desire when you're no longer around. With an incentive trust, some or all of your assets are passed to your trust when you die rather than directly to your heirs. Your trustee is empowered to distribute funds from the trust only if and when your beneficiaries do whatever it is you have specified in the trust.

 For example, an incentive trust might encourage a beneficiary to graduate from college, enter a particular profession, get married or even have children. They could also reward beneficiaries who do charitable work, or supplement the incomes of those who choose low-paying, yet meaningful careers like teaching or social work. Or, they could penalize beneficiaries who don't work by cutting off or decreasing distributions, or placing restrictions on heirs with addictions by requiring that payments go directly to rehab centers.
 But be aware that these types of trusts can also have drawbacks. A poorly constructed incentive trust can have a high risk of unintended consequences. For example, if your trust provides a financial incentive for your children to be employed full-time, but one of them gets sick or seriously injured in a car accident and can't work, they would be punished unfairly.

 You also need to know that incentive trusts aren't cheap. You can expect to pay an attorney $2,500 to $5,000 to draft one. There are also legal limits on what you can do with an incentive trust. While state laws vary, incentive trusts that encourage a beneficiary to join or leave a particular religion, or leave a spouse or not marry at all, can be challenged in court and possibly struck down.
 To create a solid incentive trust that accomplishes what you envision, tell your estate-planning attorney that you want to include precise instructions that clearly spells out your wishes, but you also want to include language granting your trustee the right to use his or her discretion and that the trustee's decisions should be final and binding.

 This allows your trustee to make common sense rulings, which will reduce or eliminate the chances of unintended and unfair consequences. It also makes it very difficult for beneficiaries to successfully challenge the trust or trustee in court. When a trust grants final decision-making authority to its trustee, it becomes almost impossible for beneficiaries to successfully argue that this trustee is not correctly implementing the trust's terms.

The key is to select a trustee who's smart enough to interpret your intent and has sufficient backbone to stand up to beneficiaries when necessary. You also need to select a successor trustee too if your first choice can no longer serve. Fees paid to a trustee vary widely depending on the state's fee schedules, the size and complexity of the trust, and conditions laid out in the trust.

with a nice seven-point following behind it. My buddy said, "dad shot him, it's a nice buck." His dad shot it and was watching it exit the shooting lane when my buddy looked back and said, "dad shoot that

Lady Tigers fall in Class C District volleyball game

By Hope Smith
Sportswriter

The Alcona varsity girls volleyball team traveled to Johannesburg-Lewiston High School for the first round of Class C District volleyball action Monday, Oct. 31. However, the night didn't go as the Lady Tigers had planned.

The Lady Tigers were defeated 3-1 at the hands of Jo-burg ending their district hopes and 2016 volleyball season.

The Lady Tigers knew what to expect and were prepared going into the game since they defeated the Cardinals during the regular season. In the first set, Alcona struggled to find a consistent rhythm with too many mental errors and nerves getting the best of them. Johannesburg picked up the 25-18 win. Alcona came back strong in the second set to tie Jo-burg at 24, before the Cardinals scored the last two points securing the 26-24 win. In the third set, the Lady Tigers never were firing on all cylinders taking an early lead and never slowed down. Alcona topped Jo-burg 25-17.

The Lady Tigers displayed solid teamwork in the fourth set. Coach Kristi Miller explained what happened at a critical point in the match. With the score tied, 23-23, setter Keilee Elmer, dove to keep a ball in play.

"She hit the floor with great force. The officials neglected to stop the play. Instead, they allowed Johannesburg to score their 24th point in Keilee's direction, as she laid motionless on the court," Miller said.

According to Miller, junior varsity coach Ann Kramer witnessed the event and immediately requested an official time-out. The official chose to leave his position on the net to "protect" Keilee, yet did not stop play.

"It was by far the most frightening, disturbing no-call, I have ever witnessed, Miller said. "At the point of Keilee striking the floor, the only thing that mattered was her safety. Neither official showed concern for her and our situation. It was extremely sad. Johannesburg was awarded their 24th point and went on to score 25.

"In the end, I am very grateful for our volleyball family for stepping in and being so supportive. We had three parents quickly respond to the scene and one was able to call in an ambulance for Keilee. Sadly, there wasn't much support elsewhere," Miller said.

Kendra LaFave stepped to the line for eight aces. Jordan Joyce hit the floor with 17 digs. Lily Sager snapped down 12 kills. Brittany Decker timed three blocks. Elmer put up 67 assists. She was also treated for a broken nose and concussion.

"It was an unfortunate ending to a very successful season. Reflecting on the game, I am proud of my team. They are fighters. They have a genuine love for each other and displayed great character," Miller said.

The Lady Tigers finished the volleyball season with an overall record of 20-12-6.

Forest Fees Waived

The Huron-Manistee National Forests are waiving fees at day-use recreation sites on Veterans Day, Friday, Nov. 11. The fee waivers are offered in cooperation with other federal agencies under the Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act. At this time concessionaire operated sites are closed for the season and the fee waiver would not apply.

"We wholeheartedly salute the men and women who represent the nearly 22 million American Veterans who have served their country in the military," said U.S. Forest Service Eastern Regional Forester Kathleen Atkinson. "As we do throughout the year, we encourage veterans and their families to take advantage of their national forests and grasslands to enjoy all the benefits the outdoors provide."

The Forest Service also honors active duty military members year-round with the free Interagency Annual Military Pass honored at all Forest Service, National Park Service, Bureau of Reclamation and U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service sites charging entrance or standard amenity fees.

Bear Den Locations

While out in the field, hunters and trappers could come upon a dened black bear. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources is looking for locations of dened bears in the northern Lower Peninsula, in order to fit them with a radio collar for an ongoing bear management program.

"Information gathered from bears assists in managing the black bear population," said Mark Boersen, wildlife biologist at the DNR

Roscommon Customer Service Center. "Currently, we have four female bears being monitored from both air and ground using radio tracking equipment."

After locating a dened bear, DNR biologists will determine if the animal is a good candidate for a radio collar. Bears that are selected will be sedated by a wildlife biologist and fitted with a collar and ear tags. A small nonfunctional tooth will be collected to determine the bear's age and to provide a DNA sample. Upon completion of the short procedure, biologists will return the bear to its den, where it will sleep through the remainder of the winter months.

Those who encounter bear dens are asked to record the location, with a GPS unit if possible, and contact Mark Boersen at (989) 275-5151 or boersenm@michigan.gov with specific location information.

He reminded sportsmen that it is illegal to disturb a bear den or disturb, harm or molest a bear in its den.

John McMaster died Saturday

Prominent Citizen of Harrisville Ill Only Three Days

November 9, 1916 - John McMaster, one of the most prominent and respected farmer of Harrisville township, died Saturday, Nov. 4, at 5:30 o'clock at his home in the southwestern part of the township.

Some months ago Mr. McMaster was injured when he was thrown out of a buggy and though he did not complain much he never fully recovered from the injury. It was not thought to be a serious matter and all through the summer and fall he worked at his usual occupation on the farm. Thursday of last week he was taken ill and from developments it is thought the old injury may have had something to do with his fatal illness.

Doctors Miller of Harrisville and Thompson of Tawas were both called and the disease was diagnosed as strangulation of the large bowel. An operation was decided upon, but the patient died before his could be brought about.

John McMaster was born in Canada on October 10, 1843. He came to Michigan about fifty years ago, locating at AuSable, where he married Miss Kittie McFarlane. They came to the farm in Harrisville forty-three years ago and have resided here ever since. Besides the widow there are two surviving children, Hugh McMaster of Harrisville and Mrs. Fred Cook of Haynes. Hugh H. and Duncan McMaster of Harrisville are brothers of the deceased.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at his home, being conducted by the Rev. C. M. Boyce, and the interment was made in the family lot at the South cemetery. The impressive burial ritual of the Masonic order was given by Alcona Lodge No. 292, of which the deceased was an ardent member.

Clever demonstration

Representative of Cartridge Company Does Some Fancy Shooting.

November 9, 1916 - Thos. P. Parker, a representative of the Peters Cartridge Co., gave a demonstration here Tuesday, using the Peters cartridges in doing some fancy shooting. Mr. Parker is an expert with the shot gun, rifle and revolver and some of his work was extremely clever. His exhibition included shooting with a revolver in each hand at two different targets at the same time, the guns either right side up or upside down; smashing three eggs tossed into the air at the same time, using a pump gun and firing three shots; standing two bottles one on top of the other, he shot the under one and then the upper one before it could fall to the ground—he used a pump gun for this. He also split a card edgewise using a blind sight, and with a target rifle he snapped iron washers in the air “just to hear them sing.” Oranges tossed into the air were shot with a high power rifle and all that was left was the smell.

These are only a few of the “stunts” which proved interesting to those who witnessed the exhibition.

Preceding the demonstration Mr. Parker gave a little talk explaining the superior points claimed for the Peters cartridges.

Circuit court

November 9, 1877- His Honor Judge Tuttle will hold a special term of the Circuit Court in this county, commencing on Nov. 20th. The Jury for such court has been drawn, and the judicial machinery is almost ready for business. The principal cases on the court calendar are:

The People vs. Edward Chapelle, grand larceny, charged with embezzling county funds; held to bail in $6,000 by Justice Reynolds. This case has been pending quite two years. Prosecuting Attorney R. Z. Roberts and H.H. Hatch, of Bay City, for the People. A.C. Maxwell, Bay City, will appear for defendant.

The People vs. Sebra R. Proper, grand larceny, charged with stealing one yoke of oxen from Killmaster & Co. Defendant held in $200 bail by Justice Reynolds, R. Z. Roberts for prosecution.— Defendant will defend himself.

StarWatch By Gary Becker - Dark Nights at Shooting Star

This week saw my Moravian astronomy students visiting Shooting Star Farm north of Quakertown, PA for their dark sky field experience. Bill Jacob's and Johnny Killwey's farm is not your typical dairy or agricultural enterprise. Bill is an independent film maker and former director from Paramount Pictures who is in the post production phases of a major feature film, When the Moon was Twice as Big. Johnny is the producer and financial guru. Showing them many of the objects they had seen from center city Bethlehem, friends of mine bring their telescopes and treat my students to an evening of stargazing from a more rural, darker setting. As an example, the Andromeda Galaxy, which is observed as a faint smudge from Main Campus, appears with a much wider galactic nucleus. Included in the telescopic view are Andromeda's majestic arms, making it look like a real galaxy. Globular clusters, gravitationally bound aggregates of 10,000 to a million stars, represent some of the oldest structures in the universe. They appear like fuzz balls from the Sky Deck at Moravian, but in darker skies reveal themselves as thousands of pinpoints of light, almost like bees frozen in time swarming around an active hive. Most globulars orbit the Milky Way at high inclinations, diving through the denser galactic plane every 100 million years or so, churning up the medium and triggering new star generation. Open clusters are more localized regions where gravity has overwhelmed less massive clouds of gas and dust, causing the “star stuff” to condense and form dozens to thousands of luminaries. Over the stretch of a hundred million to a billion years, stars near the edge of these clusters stray. The mass of the system lessens, reducing the ability of the other cluster members to hold the system together gravitationally. Astronomers say that open clusters evaporate, each member becoming a separate entity moving in its own distinct orbit around our home galaxy. Our sun was once a member of some unknown open star cluster 4.5 billion years ago. www.astronomy.org

Moments In Time

By The History Channel

- On Nov. 23, 1859, the infamous Western outlaw known as "Billy the Kid" is born in a poor Irish neighborhood on New York City's East Side. Before he was shot dead at age 21, Billy reputedly killed 27 people in the American West.
 - On Nov. 26, 1862, Oxford mathematician Charles Lutwidge Dodgson sends a handwritten manuscript called Alice's Adventures Under Ground to 10-year-old Alice Liddell. Dodgson, better known as Lewis Carroll, later published "Alice in Wonderland," one of the earliest children's books written simply to amuse children, not to teach them.
 - On Nov. 24, 1944, more than 100 American B-29 Superfortress bombers target the Nakajima aircraft engine works in Tokyo. Bad weather proved an insurmountable obstacle at 30,000 feet, and fewer than 50 bombs hit the main target.
 - On Nov. 22, 1963, John F. Kennedy, the 35th president of the United States, is assassinated while traveling through Dallas in a Lincoln convertible. Lee Harvey Oswald allegedly fired three shots from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building.
 - On Nov. 27, 1978, San Francisco leaders George Moscone and Harvey Milk are murdered by Dan White at City Hall in San Francisco. White pleaded a "diminished capacity" defense, claiming that copious amounts of junk food caused him to suffer mental problems. Thus the "Twinkie Defense" was born.
 - On Nov. 21, 1980, some 350 million people worldwide tune in to find out who shot J.R. in the primetime drama "Dallas." Full of schemes and moral excess, the long-running series revolved around the tale of two Texas oil families.
 - On Nov. 25, 1999, The U.N. General Assembly passes a resolution designating Nov. 25 the International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women. It marked the anniversary of the brutal political murder of three sisters in 1960 in the Dominican Republic.

- Until nylon came to the fore, the most popular material used on the business end of toothbrushes -- starting way back in 16th-century China -- was hog bristles.

- Those who study such things claim to have found the best way to climb stairs: Evidently, you should exhale before you begin the ascent, inhale for the duration of the first two steps, exhale during the next two steps, and repeat until you've reached the top. Of course, it's interesting to note that what "best" means in this situation isn't clearly defined.
- According to pollsters, when divorced people take surveys, women are much more likely than men to report that they're happy about the breakup.
- The hyoid, found in your throat, is the only bone in the human body that is not connected to any other bone. Its purpose is to anchor the muscles of your tongue.

The sale will be held at the Alcona County circuit courthouse, which is located at 106 5th Street, Harrisville, Mich. The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development may bid any amount up to and including the total debt at the date of sale, plus any and all amounts recoverable under the provisions of the mortgage. There will be no proration of taxes, rents or other income or liabilities, except that the purchaser will pay, at or before closing, his pro rata share of any real estate taxes that have been paid by the secretary to the date of the foreclosure sale.

When making their bids, all bidders, except the secretary, must submit a deposit totaling 10 percent of the successful bid in the form of a certified check or cashier's check, made payable to the Secretary of HUD. Each oral bid need not be accompanied by a deposit. If the successful bid is oral, a deposit of 10 percent of the successful bid must be presented when the bidding is closed. The deposit is nonrefundable. The remainder of the purchase price must be delivered within 30 days of the sale or such other time as the secretary may determine for good cause shown, time being of the essence. This amount, like the bid deposits, must be delivered in the form of a certified or cashier's check. If the secretary is the high bidder, he need not pay the bid amount in cash. The successful bidder will pay all conveyancing fees, all real estate and other taxes that are due on or after the delivery of the remainder of the payment and all other costs associated with the transfer of title. At the conclusion of the sale, the deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them.

The secretary may grant an extension of time within which to deliver the remainder of the payment. All extensions will be for 15-day increments for a fee of $500.00, paid in advance. The extension fee shall be in the form of a certified or cashier's check made payable to the Secretary of HUD. If the high bidder closes the sale prior to the expiration of any extension period, the unused portion of the extension fee shall be applied toward the amount due.

If the high bidder is unable to close the sale within the required period, or within any extensions of time granted by the secretary, the high bidder may be required to forfeit the cash deposit or, at the election of the foreclosure commissioner after consultation with the HUD field office representative, will be liable to HUD for any costs incurred as a result of such failure. The commission may, at the direction of the HUD field office representative, offer the property to the second highest bidder for an amount equal to the highest price offered by that bidder.

There is no right of redemption, or right of possession based upon a right of redemption, in the mortgagor or others subsequent to a foreclosure completed pursuant to the act. Therefore, the foreclosure commissioner will issue a deed to the purchaser upon receipt of the entire purchase price in accordance with the terms of the sale, as provided herein. HUD does not guarantee that the property will be vacant.

The mortgage cannot be reinstated prior to sale, as the event triggering acceleration was not a default in payments. Payment of the entire outstanding balance of the mortgage debt is required to stop the foreclosure. The outstanding balance includes amounts that would be due under the mortgage agreement if payments under the mortgage had not been accelerated, advertising costs, posting costs and postage expenses incurred in giving notice, mileage by the most reasonable road distance for posting notices, reasonable and customary costs incurred for title and lien record searches, the necessary out-of-pocket costs incurred by the foreclosure commissioner for recording documents, a commission for the foreclosure and all other costs incurred in connection with the foreclosure prior to the sale.
