MSU Extension resumes in-person 4-H club meetings

By Mary Weber
Staff Writer

If one listens carefully, a collective sigh of relief can be heard coming from families as they learn their 4-H clubs will once again meet in-person to work on projects, study animal husbandry and discuss with peers and leaders the wide variety of subjects 4-H offers.

For over a year, Alcona County 4-H Youth Development ceased to have in-person club meetings following the request of Michigan State University and its extensions to fight the spread of COVID-19.

According to 4-H Program Coordinator Les Thomas, the ban on meeting in person will be lifted within a week or two providing the leader's status is up-to-date and they follow the application process. The process includes submitting a plan through a survey and that at least one leader in the club has watched the 4-H leadership webinar Communicating Through Conflict, which specifically addresses COVID-19 related conflicts and the logistics of bringing a club back to in-person meetings.

"We are not pushing leaders to go back to in-person meetings. We are asking them what they want to do in an application format. They have to follow the process and reply to the survey. The survey allows them to think about the how and what-ifs of meeting in person. It will get them thinking about how many people will be at the meeting/event including parents or whoever is transporting the youth, if the meeting will be indoors or outside and reminds them about masking and distance guidelines," Thomas said.

He explained the decision to cease in-person meetings was made early on in March of 2020 to protect 4-H members, families, volunteers and staff. "It was meant to be part of the solution to the pandemic instead of part of the problem," Thomas said.

He explained some clubs powered through the past year and had virtual meetings through Zoom and other Internet formats. "Certainly, they were not as much fun as the meetings that used to meet in someone's living room, a barn, or garage, but the clubs did what they could," he said.

The Jolly Rogers Club, which promotes animal husbandry with a variety of animals, was fairly successful at having online meetings and the kids seemed to enjoy them, despite not being able to meet in person, according to Thomas.

A new Alcona 4-H club which was a "spin" club, meaning it just met for a short time, held all of its meetings virtually. It was a creative writing/pen pal club with about seven members. Thomas explained the youth learned how to write letters, postcards and a little about how the post office operates. Some of the youth were even able to write and receive letters in the mail from international pen pals.

Thomas is excited about bringing in-person meetings back to 4-H and felt the timing was perfect to assist with 4-H projects the youth may be planning to bring to the Alcona County Fair this year. He said although the Alcona County Fair was an open fair and youth participants involved in showing and marketing animals did not have to be 4-H members, many of them are active in 4-H clubs.

"We hope to be 100 percent at the fair this year, so long as the trajectory of COVID-19 cases continues to decline. We anticipate a full presence including our awards program, book giveaway, food booth and possible educational programming," Thomas said.

He explained since the announcement from MSU to open back to in-person meetings, the word is getting out to leaders. "I expect it may take two or three weeks to get through the entire application process, once it is approved by me then I have to send it on for state approval. Seeing how all the 4-H clubs are going through the same process, it may take a bit to get through it all. He already knew of three Alcona County clubs that are in the process; the Hot Shot Gun Club, Dothraki Sky Dogs Horse Club and the Ace Riders Livestock Club.

Although many groups will be able to eventually meet this year, the annual 4-H Exploration Days, which normally brings 4-H youth ages 12 to 19 from all over the state to the MSU campus for a week of educational seminars and hands-on workshop/instruction, will be held virtually instead this year from June 22 through June 24.

Thomas explained it was due to the number of people gathering, typically 2,000 youth and 500 to 800 leader volunteers, that the event was being held virtually.

"We took 50 youth to the Exploration Days in 2019, that's an entire graduating class in Alcona schools. MSU just didn't feel comfortable with the number of people expected and trying to keep everyone protected this year. Instead, they are going to have some very good speakers and virtual workshop programs such as learning about other cultures, making healthy smoothies and even how to knit. We are looking forward to having the full program in place at MSU next year," Thomas said.

Although he was disappointed the Exploration Days were meeting virtually, he was very happy to announce the 4-H Day Camp for youth ages eight to 12 will be held in person this summer at the Lost Lake Woods Club in Lincoln. The camp is expected to be held on August 3, 4 and 5 from 1 to 5 p.m. with space limited to 30 campers.

While some events do have a cost involved, such as $20 for the virtual Exploration Days which includes a swag bag and $30 for the Day Camp which includes a T-shirt, all individual membership fees have been waived for the year. Scholarship funds are available for the events, contact Thomas for an application.

Avoid Foam on Water

As the weather warms up, District Health Department No. 2 (DHD2) would like to remind residents to avoid foam they may see on lakes, rivers, and streams in Michigan. While foam can be naturally occurring, some foam may contain high levels of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, more commonly known as PFAS.

Foam on waterbodies may contain unknown chemicals and bacteria, so it is recommended to avoid contact with the foam. If contact does occur with people or pets, rinse or wash the skin as soon as possible, especially if PFAS is suspected at that location. Health advisories have been issued for some specific bodies of water within Michigan. A listing of the specific advisories can be found in the "PFAS Foam on Lakes and Streams" section of the Michigan.gov/PFASResponse webpage under "Testing."

Contact with surface water, such as swimming or doing other recreational activities in waterbodies containing PFAS is not a health concern. PFAS-containing foams typically have a much greater concentration of chemicals than what is found in the water itself.

More information on PFAS-containing foam can be found under the "PFAS Foam" section at Michigan.gov/pfasresponse. Anyone with questions about exposures to PFAS and/or foam, call the MDHHS Environmental Health hotline at (800) 648-6942.

 The Alcona varsity softball team couldn't get much going in its non-conference double-header at Tawas on Thursday. As a result, the Lady Tigers lost both contests, 15-0 and 31-2.

In the opener, Miah Schopfer suffered the loss, as she struck out one batter.

The offense managed two hits, one apiece by Sage Gauthier and Olivia Borchardt.

For the offensive side of things, Gauthier smacked a double and had an RBI. Ashlyn Gordy, Rachel Layton, Schopfer and Avery Wrobel had one single apiece. Borchardt also had an RBI.

Alcona plays Au Gres, at Au Gres on Friday, June 4 in a division four district semi-final contest. Hale, Whittemore-Prescott and Mio are also in the district.

Alcona track claims NSL championships

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer
 The Alcona track and field teams went mostly unchallenged in North Star League meets this spring. The Tigers capped off their impressive run last Thursday, when both the boys and girls teams clinched conference championships, by winning the NSL finals meet held at Whittemore-Prescott.

"Congratulations to the boys and girls track teams on their NSL Big Dipper championships," said head coach Mandie Willey. "Both teams performed well despite the uncooperative weather."

The boys won the meet with 176 points while W-P was second with 52, Rogers City was third with 51, Mio was fourth with nine and Oscoda placed fifth with eight.

Gavin Walker won the 100-meter dash (12.20) and 200-meter dash (25.22). Nick Rasmussen was second in the 100 and Chris Barnes was second in the 200. Jacob Sytek won the 400 (56.25). Carter Upper was second in the 800, won the 1600 (2:32.58) and also won the 3200 (5:27.21). Hunter Rigby was second in the 400 and he won the 110 hurdles (19.44). Hayden Johnston was second in the 300 hurdles and Ashton Rigby was third and fourth in the 110 and 300 hurdles.

The Tigers won the 4x100 (50.96) on runs by Fallon Hux, H. Rigby, Barnes and Zach Stephenson. The 4x200 relay team (1:39.74) won thanks to the efforts of Barnes, G. Walker, Sytek and Rasmussen and the 4x400 team won (5:09) as well, on the legs of Stephenson, G. Walker, Barnes and Sytek.

Jacob Tanner won the discus (104'5) and was second in the shot put. Johnston won the high jump (5'0). Stephenson won the pole vault (11'0) and Rasmussen won the long jump (16'11.75). Johnston and Upper were second and third in the long jump.

For the girls, the Tigers won with 140 points, Rogers City was next with 66, W-P proved to meet in person, how they conduct that meeting will depend on protocols in place by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and local health departments. "As it stands right now, if you are in a shooting sport, handling livestock, horses or any animal, participants are not to wear a mask. We want to make sure the youth have all senses available while dealing with an animal or in a shooting sport. Too often a mask can cause eyeglasses to fog up or hinder speech, which could trigger a safety issue," Thomas said.

He is encouraging leaders to meet with their club outdoors or in a barn with the large barn door open. "Shooting sports meet outside mostly anyway and are typically distanced naturally. Indoor archery normally meets in January, so we will see then what protocols are in place," Thomas said.

The Alcona County 4-H is always looking for new leaders to assist with groups already in place as well as leaders wanting to start a new club. Thomas said Alcona 4-H archery and the shotgun club are primary examples of how leadership should work in the organization, as each of those clubs has several leader volunteers. "You only need one or two leaders to run a club, but if you have six leaders, it allows a lot more flexibility for the volunteers and prevents burnout," Thomas said.

He was excited about the future of 4-H, "We even have two new clubs that will be starting this year in the Spruce area, a gardening club and a knitting club," Thomas said.

Thomas plans to be at every event he can make this summer with free book giveaways for youth along with 4-H information.

For more information on Exploration Days, Youth Day Camp or to volunteer, visit the Alcona County 4-H Youth Development page on Facebook, call Thomas at (989) 724-6478 or email him at thoma322@msu.edu.

Members of the Alcona County Fair board and volunteers of the Alcona Jr. Livestock Club and Alcona 4-H youth gathered last Saturday to trim trees and clean up the fairgrounds in anticipation of the fair reopening this August. The fair was closed last year due to COVID-19 restraints. (Back to front, from left) Reid and Emma Schroeder, Nelson Phinney, Savannah Write and Zoey Arcand clear brush. Photo by Mary Weber.

Latin honors are Latin phrases used in some colleges and universities to indicate the level of distinction with which an academic degree has been earned. This system is primarily used in the United States. The system usually has three levels of honor: cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude. Typically, the Laude System recognizes three levels of honor graduation: Cum Laude (with praise), Magna Cum Laude (with great honor) and Summa Cum Laude (with highest honor).

Oliver — Somers

June 6, 1946 ~ Wilma Faye Somers spoke her marriage vows to Norman T. Oliver at the Lincoln Methodist Church at eleven o'clock Monday morning, June 3. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Greer, of Ossineke, pastor of the Lincoln Church, before a candle-lighted altar banked with evergreen and baskets of white peonies and white lilac.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Somers of Lincoln and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Oliver, also of Lincoln.

Wilma was preceded to the altar by Miss Dale Oliver, sister of the groom, as maid of honor. Rena MacNeil, cousin of the bride was the bridesmaid. Little Gayle Meredith niece of the bride was flower girl, and Master Robert Miller, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride was lovely in a candlelight satin gown with full skirt ending in a train. A tiara of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of white net. Her flowers were calla lilies. She wore a double strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of Honor wore a gown of pink net over satin and wore a headdress of pink carnations. She carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

The bridesmaid wore a blue net and satin gown with headdress of yellow roses and carried an arm bouquet of the matching flowers.

The flower girl was sweet in a soft green satin, floor-length frock. She carried pink and white carnations tied with a bow of green tulle. Her escort and ringbearer, appeared in a mannish suit of white.

The bride was given in marriage by her father Raymond Oliver, brother of the groom, was best man. Herman Somers was his other attendant. Seating the guests were Eugene Miller and Eugene Somers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Somers chose a figured silk of lime green. Mrs. Oliver wore a brown ensemble.

Miss Nettie Goheen played the processional and recessional. Misses Beverly Gould and Betty Greer, sang "Because," and Mrs. E. C. Neiman sang "O' Promise Me."

Following the ceremony, the wedding party drove to Lost Lake Woods where a wedding dinner was served to members of the immediate families.

The table was centered with a beautiful three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Floral place cards were placed for

Members of G.A.A. enjoy campout

June 3, 1971 ~ Several members of the Alcona High School Girls Athletic Association spent the weekend of May 21, 22 and 23 camping out at Three Lakes in the Huron National Forest. The girls attending were Cindy Baker, Laura Campbell, Sue Carpenter, Barb and Patti Conklin, Kris Benhauser, Kathy Goddard, Sarah Jacobs, Ruthann and Sherry Kleve, Beth and Muriel MacGregor, Debbie and Mary Rickert, Roxanne Sterling, Reta Stone, Pam and Penny Wilson and Miss Joell Johnson, advisor. Also attending were Karen Gauthier and Sue Lashey from Bowling Green State University in Ohio.

On Wednesday evening, May 26, a coffee hour was held for the girls and their mothers.

Eight girls, Bonnie Beck, Sue Carpenter, Patti Conklin, Kathy Goddard, Sarah Jacobs, Beth MacGregor, Sally Peters and Reta Stone, were accepted into membership at this time. The awards were also presented to active members.

Mary Rickert, Alcona High School senior and five year member of GAA was selected as the "Girl of the Year." She has been an active member and an officer throughout high school and has served as president during the past year.

Glennie sixth graders conduct cleanup project

June 5, 1996 ~ On May 21 David Fasbender's sixth grade students learned what it means to be a community volunteer.

The 21 students spent the day removing last winter's accumulation of leaves, debris and weathered floral arrangements from the Curtisville and Glennie cemeteries.

With the help of Warren Mervyn, Leroy Winn and Truman Thornton, four truckloads of debris were removed from the sites by the students and their teacher.

The work day became a history lesson as the students were able to ask questions about the various local families and others resting at the site. A walk to the top of "Cemetery Hill," as it is known locally, gave the students a chance to see the foundation of the old Hayes fire tower location.

As the sexton, Maynard Garrett, was also working that day, the students had a chance to see how many things were accomplished in a cemetery while they prepared the area for mowing during the summer months.

Curtis Township officials are pleased that the students have shown an interest in community projects such as this one.

It is hoped that this outing can become an annual event.

Another gas well struck, oil boom talk renewed

June 2, 1921 ~ A fine flow of gas was struck a few days ago on the Doar farm, section 15 Mikado township, which makes the prospects for oil all the more promising.

The known gas territory in Alcona county extends over an area of ten miles long by six miles wide which has been practically all leased up by Geo. B. Killmaster of Harrisville, who intends shortly to sink test wells to the oil-bearing sands, about 2,500 feet from the surface.

The deepest well drilled so far is 1,500, in which plenty of gas and indications of oil were found.

Judging from surface indications and a geological standpoint, as well as oil blossoms, etc., found in the shallow wells already drilled, this certainly looks like a good territory, and an oil boom is confidently predicted for the coming summer.

A second well is now being drilled in section 15.

Moments In Time

By The History Channel

- On May 31, 1859, the famous tower clock known as Big Ben, located at the top of the 320-foot-high Elizabeth Tower, rings out over London for the first time. At night, all four of the clock's faces, each one 23 feet across, are illuminated. A light above Big Ben is also lit to let the public know when Parliament is in session.
- On June 4, 1876, a mere 83 hours after leaving New York City, the Transcontinental Express train arrives in San Francisco. First-class passengers rode in beautifully appointed cars with plush velvet seats that converted into snug sleeping berths. Third-class passengers sat on narrow wooden benches.
- On June 5, 1922, George W. Carmack, the first person to discover gold along the Klondike River, dies in British Columbia. In 1896, near the confluence of the Yukon and Klondike River, Carmack stumbled across a deposit of gold so rich that thumb-sized pieces of gold lay scattered along the creek bed.
- On June 6, 1933, eager motorists park their automobiles on the grounds the first-ever drive-in movie theater, in New Jersey. Inventor Richard Hollingshead had come up with the idea in his driveway with different projection and sound techniques.
- On June 2, 1953, Queen Elizabeth II is formally crowned monarch of the United Kingdom in a ceremony steeped in traditions that date back a millennium.
- On June 3, 1965, 120 miles above the Earth, Major Edward White II opens the hatch and steps out of the Gemini 4 capsule, becoming the first U.S. astronaut to walk in space. Attached to the craft by a 25-foot tether, White remained outside the capsule for 20 minutes.
- On June 1, 1980, CNN (Cable News Network), the world's first 24-hour television news network, makes its debut. CNN signed on at 6 p.m. EDT from its headquarters in Atlanta. (c) 2021 Hearst Communications, Inc. All Rights Reserved

Strange But True

- Are you one of those folks who paces while talking on the phone? Psychologists believe this may be a kind of coping mechanism to make up for lack of body language and nonverbal cues that normally accompany conversation.
 - A chef traditionally wears white because the chef of the first prime minister of France (1815) believed it was the most hygienic of all colors.
 - The shape of the Coca-Cola bottle is patterned after a cacao seed pod.
 - In 1995, Chris "Fenderman" Black got hitched to his Fender Stratocaster guitar that he'd purchased 35 years earlier, after his real wife quipped that he spent so much time with it, he should marry it.
 - Early Hoover vacuum cleaners were hard to sell because potential customers refused to believe they could have that much dirt in their carpets.
 - Plane exhaust kills more people than plane crashes. Approximately 10,000 people die annually from toxic airplane pollutants.
 - Argentine goalkeeper Sergio Goycochea would crouch down and covertly urinate on the field before every penalty shootout for good luck. He started the ritual during the 1990 World Cup quarterfinals and continued it for the rest of his career.
 - "Hurkle-durkle" is an old Scottish word meaning to lie in bed after it's time to get up and get going.
 - A New Jersey man bought a $5 bottle of orange juice, which his wife deemed too expensive and sent him back to return. He bought two Powerball lottery tickets with the refund and ended up winning the jackpot worth $315.3 million.

Novels: Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Vintage lunchbox

Vintage collectibles, especially those related to sports, sell quickly at auction, perhaps because not all are expensive. Sometimes they are not noticed by the dedicated sports collectors and sell at bargain prices. This metal lunchbox was made in 1976. It is decorated with the helmets of the National Football Conference on one side, and American Conference helmets on the other side.

Lunchbox collecting began in 1950, with the first example picturing the cowboy movie star Hopalong Cassidy. The metal boxes and matching thermos bottles remained popular until 1960, when soft plastic boxes were the style. (And it is a myth that metal boxes were replaced because students were hitting each other in the head and causing injuries.) This football collectible included a matching thermos and was an auction bargain at $35. The King-Seely Thermos Company made many metal lunchboxes, including the one with the football helmets.

ephant," a Kroger grocery store figure that promoted plaid Top Value stamps. A 1957 Toppie lunchbox with thermos sold for $2,784.

Q: On the TV show "Better Call Saul," the plot included a Hummel figurine that was so rare that it would sell for thousands of dollars. Your comments on Hummels say they are bought for very low prices today, most under $50. Did the show make up the story? Or is there a type of Hummel that sells for over $1,000?

A: The "Better Call Saul" show was talking about the rarest Hummels, a group called International Figures. The characters talked about the Bulgarian figure, but the real one depicted a Bavarian figure. In 1976, eight were in a sale by Robert Miller, the author of the first Hummel price book and an expert in all things Hummel. He realized they were different from any he owned, so he made for a dealer in Hungary before World War II.

Later research claims that 24 or 26 different designs were made in the 1940s. The figures are marked with the M.I. Hummel signature used from 1935 to 1955 and mold numbers that run consecutively from 806 to 813 and others with numbers up to 968. Each figurine is depicted in its country's national dress. The thieves in the TV show wanted to steal an ordinary Hummel figurine and redecorate it to look like the famous one that has sold for thousands of dollars.

The first sales were at $20,000, but by 2013, the price for the International figure was as low as $5,000.
