New grant will build hoop house

Alcona Community Schools was awarded an $80,000 grant to support efforts to build a hoop house at the middle/high school to support the growing of local food directly to school meals for just over $80,000.

"Alcona is grateful to continue to add opportunities for hands-on learning and direct application to life skills for all of our students. The new hoop house will only enhance our community garden and hoop house located at Alcona Elementary," said Superintendent Dan O'Connor.

The Healthy Meals Incentives grant is part of an allocation of nearly $30 million by the USDA Food and Nutrition Service to 264 school districts across 44 states and the District of Columbia.

"These grants are the largest targeted investment USDA has ever made for school meal programs in small and rural communities," said Stacy Dean, USDA deputy under secretary for Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services. "We want to ensure every child in America has the opportunity to attend a school with high-quality, nutritious meals, and this support is a step in that direction."

O'Connor explained that as part of the Healthy Meals Incentives grant program, Action for Healthy Kids and its partners will provide in-depth individualized technical assistance to support and guide the implementation of key strategies to improve school meal quality, as well as help to develop creative solutions to provide nutritious foods for the children we serve.

"Offering healthier school meals is key to helping our nation's kids get the nutrients they need today and for their long-term development," said Rob Bisceglie, CEO of Action for Healthy Kids. "Through this historic investment in school nutrition, we will help school districts across the country overcome challenges and develop solutions to provide nutritious foods for the children they serve."

Sweet Adeline singers from throughout the state (top) joined en masse to bring harmony back to the Harmony Festival Arts and Craft Show held in Harrisville last weekend by performing "Let There Be Peace On Earth" directed by Tiffany Crawford (front center) and signed in American Sign Language by Nancy Liedel (far left center) and Peggy Isham, front right.

Walk-about horse finally returns to his family

By Mary Weber
Staff Writer

After a 15-day walk-about, a missing horse has returned to his owners on London Road in Mikado.

Oliver, a 23-year-old gelding Tennessee Walking Horse, lived up to his breed's name on August 11 when he broke out of his stall sometime during the early morning hours while his owner/family, Tim and Jaymie Sutton and their daughter, Revlynn, were still asleep.

"Tim left for work and didn't notice that Oliver wasn't in his stall. He got down near the end of the road and saw fresh manure on the side of the road. No one else has a horse by us so he came back to check and Oliver was gone," Jaymie said.

The Suttons alerted friends and neighbors and a county-wide search was conducted via social media. All available began looking for Oliver.

Jaymie explained she also alerted the Alcona and Iosco Sheriff's Offices and notified some horse auctions in case someone found him and tried to sell him. "With a horse missing for two weeks you began to think all kinds of things could have happened," she said.

The hardest part of the horse's disappearance was trying to explain it to Revlynn who is only a year old but truly loves Oliver. "A big part of every day since she was born was going out to say hello to Oliver. She missed seeing him and would ask every morning if he had come back home yet," Jaymie said.

Relatives, friends and community members searched acres of fields, woods and along the Pine River by foot and all-terrain vehicles look-

Correspondence

To the Editor,
This communique is for those that ask questions of other ministers' perspectives on issues but do not quite "get it" or agree with them. The Bible does not plainly state that God is in three persons – the trinity. No where does it state "God the Son" or "God the Holy Spirit."

Commentators and exegetes use the "science of God theology to support their own personal beliefs. Theologian is not listed as a "gift of the spirit" like pastor, teacher, minister or evangelist. They claim theology is a shortcut to understanding God and the Bible.

I believe they took a shortcut through the cow pasture and have a cow pie influenced belief system. Here's what the Bible plainly states, the Holy Spirit is the Father (Matthew 1:21, 22 and Luke 1:35), not a divine begetter. Jesus, the son of God stated, "I and my Father are one,"

(John 10:30) not two thirds of a trio. Also, "If you have seen me, you have seen the father," (John 14:9) not another person.

Isaiah the prophet, in Isaiah 9:6, clearly states that son of man, as the Messiah is one person whose "name shall be called the Wonder, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace." The Counselor is the Holy Spirit, John 14:16, 26 and 15:26. The mighty God is Yhvh (Jehovah). The Everlasting Father is God the Father. The Prince of Peace is the Son of God, Jesus — a person and a man, yet exists as God the Father, the Son of God, and the Holy Spirit.

Theologians have created the Trinity and added to the Bible their personal beliefs. God is Infinite. Man is finite. Let's not be so arrogant that we add to his word, Isaiah 55:8,9.

Kevin Swartzinski

Kevin Swartzinski, of Williamston, Mich., formerly of Alcona County, passed away on Monday, Aug. 28, 2023, at the age of 57.

He was born on July 26, 1966, in Alpena. He was the beloved son of Arthur and Carol (Domke) Swartzinski.

Kevin's journey began in the charming town of Alpena, and he was raised in Spruce, where he embraced the farming heritage that had been passed down through three generations of his family.

Kevin attended Alcona High School and was a member of the graduating class of 1984. During his time at Alcona, he was an active participant in the Future Farmers of America (FFA), highlighting his passion for agriculture and a strong connection to the land.

Possessing a creative and innovative mind, Kevin was a natural problem solver and a dedicated doer. He channeled his talents into a career as a tradesman machinist in the Alpena and Alcona areas. His hands-on skills and meticulous attention to detail made him an invaluable asset.

Kevin's fascination with tinkering and fixing things was evident in his previous role at Petroleum Development Corporation, where he served as a pumper and well tender with his partner and pumper of the year in 2004, Gypsy. He found purpose in maintaining and repairing equipment, ensuring that everything ran smoothly.

The journey of Kevin's life led him to Williamston, Mich. His dedication to his work never wavered, and he found a new home at Petronas Industries, serving as a dedicated tool maker.

Kevin's spirit of service extended beyond his professional life. He was an active member of the Williamston Lions Club and was honored with the Lion of the Year award in 2009-2010 for his outstanding contributions to the community. He had a green thumb and took immense pride in gardening, a passion that once yielded a remarkable 115-pound pumpkin.

Kevin Swartzinski leaves behind a legacy of hard work, ingenuity, and a commitment to making the world a better place. His memory will forever be cherished by his family, friends, and all those who had the privilege of knowing him.

Preceding him in death was his father, Arthur.

Surviving is his wife of 31 years, Renee Jent; his mother, Carol (Walt Todd) Kennedy; one brother, Neil (Tyra) Swartzinski; Godparents, Lorna and Norm Souva; many nieces and nephews; and his dogs, Abbie and Scout.

A memorial service will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 15 at Skinner Funeral Home, Lansing Chapel. Family will receive friends one hour prior to the service for visitation.

For those desiring memorial contributions may be made to the Alcona FFA, the Alcona Humane Society, or, the MacKenzies Animal Sanctuary in Kevin's name.

To share memories and condolences, visit www.-SkinnerFuneralHomes.com.

Featured Photographers

• The photography of Leona Webb is featured during the month of September and October at the Harrisville branch of the Alcona County Library, 312 W. Main Street, Harrisville. Webb is a Bloomfield Hills, Mich. fine arts photographer.

Leona Webb

Webb's specialty is shooting black and white images, although she has an equal amount of color images. She finds inspiration in the beauty of nature that surrounds her. Her inspiration to photograph in black and white was influenced by viewing some of the works of Ansel Adams. She has a particular interest in some of the historical spots in Harrisville.

Webb was born and raised in northeastern Michigan. She has a bachelor's degree in business and a master's degree in organizational development.

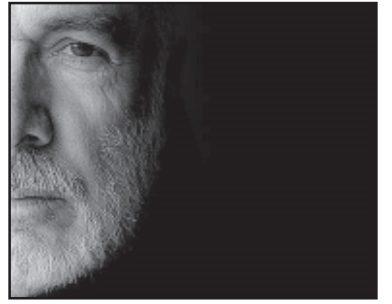

Her photographic collection includes unusual architecture, classic cars, boats, animals, landscapes and more. Webb believes that art is a collaborative work between the audience and the image, and art happens somewhere in the space between.

Her work is on display in Harrisville through October 24. It can also be found on her website at leonawebbphoto-graphy.com.

• Lincoln photographer Ted Fines is the Thunder Bay Arts Council's featured artist for September and October. There will be a reception in his honor on Friday, Sept. 8, from 5-6:30 p.m. at the Thunder Bay Arts Gallery, in downtown Alpena, (127 W. Chisholm Street). The reception is open to the public and free of charge.

He was born in Toronto, Ontario, Canada and lives in Lost Lake Woods Club with his wife, Chris. Fines has been fascinated by photography all of his life. From the simple beginnings of the Kodak Brownie to today's advanced digital cameras, he has always realized that there are basic rules to becoming an "accomplished" photographer. "It's the holy grail that we all strive for as photographers," he said.

"I have been fortunate to have mentored many of today's great Midwestern photographers," Fines said. He has been featured in several books and magazines and in many of Detroit's and northern Michigan's art galleries and museums including the Detroit Institute of Arts photography competition in 2008 called "Sacred Places."

He has also held digital photography workshops at the Eleanor & Edsel Ford Estate (Grosse Pointe Shores, Mich.) and taught many beginning through advanced classes for photography and photo-editing throughout Michigan. More of his work can be seen at: www.facebook.com/ted.fines and www.wix.com/egfines/ted-fines.

Setting Healthy Boundaries

Hope Shores Alliance is offering a free support group for survivors of domestic, sexual, and stalking violence. The support group is focused on supporting survivors on their healing journey and analyzing what it means and looks like to set boundaries in relationships.

Many survivors share that setting and maintaining boundaries after violence is difficult. This support group will discuss what it looks and feels like to be empowered to set boundaries. Boundaries are one of many tools to protect our personal goals, values, autonomy, and self-worth.

This is a seven-week support group titled "Setting Healthy Boundaries." There is no cost to participate. This group will be open to the public to participate in until September 19. Starting the week of September 26, the group will be closed to new members. Call (989) 356-6265 to register any time day or night before September 19. The dates for the group are as follows: Tuesday, Sept. 5, 12, 19, 26 and October 3, 10, 17, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Tigers roll over Atlanta

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

The Alcona varsity football team played its second game on the road on Thursday, Aug. 31.

The Tigers had no problem with host Atlanta. They had a lopsided 50-6 North Star League crossover victory.

"This was a good win for us," said head coach Jason Somers. "We were able to clean up some things from week one and I felt as though we improved in the areas we talked about."

Garrett Somers returned the opening kickoff for a 69-yard touchdown, giving the Tigers a lead just moments into the game.

Somers also had an early touchdown pass to Collin Walker. William Liebler and Jeremiah Bullis had touchdown runs. Walker had a rushing touchdown in the second quarter and Sawyer Seminoff had a touchdown reception in the frame.

The Tigers rolled to a 50-0 halftime lead and played through a running clock during the second half.

"I think setting the tone early is always key to boosting confidence and getting the team in the right state of mind," Somers said. "The early leads seem to do help us in the long run."

Somers finished eight-of-10 passing for 217 yards and four touchdowns. Walker ran five times for 33 yards and a touchdown. Bullis carried it twice for 27 yards and a score. Walker had two receptions for 88 yards and a touchdown. Bullis had three grabs for 39 yards and a touchdown.

"It was a great team effort," Somers said. "The defense was very good, once again led by the play of Jeremiah Bullis with 11 tackles and a sack and Travis Walker who had two interceptions along with teammate Nathan Nardi."

Also of note on the defense, Evan Borsvold made seven tackles. William O'Neil had five tackles, one for a loss.

Alcona (2-0 overall) hosts St. Ignace (2-0) on Friday, Sept. 8 for what is expected to be a battle between two top-tier eight-player teams. The Saints were a playoff team in 11-player last fall and have defeated Suttons Bay and St. Ignace in their first two games this year, both by scores of 48-6.

"We will need to be better in all three phases of the game," Somers said. "That is what we will focus on this week in practice. We are excited to be at home and as always we will need to limit mistakes and take advantage of our opponents' mistakes."

Cross country takes first at Rau Invite

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

The Alcona cross country team picked up a championship plaque in the first meet of the season on Thursday, Aug. 31.

The Tigers were running at the Rau Invitational, hosted by Ogemaw Heights, and won the small school division with 40 points while second place Rudyard had 45.

Cole Upper led the way with a first place finish and impressive early season time of 18:52. Carter Upper was third at 19:41. Darren Boyat was 10th with a run of 21:11. Zygmund Villalobos was 13th on a time of 21:46, and crossing the line in 20th was Colin McKenna, by clocking a run of 22:42. Carter Upper, Cole Upper and Boyat all won medals with their finishes.

"I am very proud of these athletes as they are working so well together as a team," head coach Tammy Nelson said. "They are very encouraging to one another to keep striving to be the best they can be. I am so excited to see how far they will go this season."

Soccer team drops game with Burt Lake

By Ben Murphy
Sports Writer

Alcona's soccer team played a back-and-forth battle in its home opener on Monday, Aug. 28 against Burt Lake Northern Michigan Christian High School.

The Tigers lost the battle, 6-5.

"It was a tough loss because we led by two goals at one point and just couldn't lock the door to hold onto the win," said head coach Tim Steiner. "I feel like our offense did well with Preston Sharp scoring three goals and there were several other goal scoring opportunities that we just could not finish and put in the back of the net."

Burt Lake scored the first goal of the game to take a quick 1-0 lead, but Alcona booted in the next two for a 2-1 advantage. Burt Lake kicked in another to knot things up at 2-2 by the half.

The Tigers had the early lead in the second half, but Burt Lake scored four goals to pull off the win.

"We need to tighten up on defense and plug the holes that Burt Lake took advantage of, but the injury to one of our key defenders early at the start of the second half and who could not return really hurt us," Steiner said. "It was an exciting game all the way till the final whistle. Every game we gain experience and are looking forward to playing them again at their home."

To go along with Sharp's hat trick, Emily Atkinson and Colin McKenna had a goal apiece. Dawson Rigby and Cole Upper had two assists each and McKenna also had an assist. Vincent Nardi made eight saves in goal.

Alcona (0-2 overall) heads to Harbor Springs Harbor Light Christian on Thursday and travels to Pinconning on Monday, Sept. 11.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

Haynes Township-Zoning Ordinance Amendment

The Haynes Township Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on September 27, 2023, at 7:00 p.m. to recommend the adoption of zoning ordinance amendments relating to solar energy facilities, accessory solar panels and battery energy storage facilities to the Township Board. The public hearing will be held at Haynes Township Hall at 3930 E. McNeil Road, Lincoln, Michigan. The full text of the amendments is available online at www.discovernortheastmichigan.org/zoning.asp or www.haynestwp.com or by contacting Gerald Labaza, 4240 E. Shaw Road, Harrisville, Michigan 48740. Written comments may be sent to Gerald Labaza, 4240 E. Shaw Road, Harrisville, Michigan 48740. The public may appear at the public hearing in person or by counsel. The proposed amendments modify the Haynes Township Zoning Ordinance as follows:

Amend Section 2.1 - Add set of definitions related to solar energy and battery energy storage systems. Amend Section 4.0 - to specify districts to allow solar energy facilities (utility-scale/commercial), solar energy panels (accessory), and battery energy storage systems. Amend Article 7 to add new Sections 7.30 "Solar Energy" and Section 7.31 "Battery Energy Storage Systems" to add supplemental regulations specific for those uses.

ing for the horse to no avail. Oliver simply had no interest in being found.

The Suttons had just about lost all hope that Oliver would ever return when, after a family outing on Saturday, Aug. 26, they pulled into their driveway and Oliver was grazing in their backyard, seemingly fine like nothing at all alarming had happened.

He did have a few cuts and scrapes and was missing a bit of his mane, but other than that Jaymie said he was no worse for the wear and didn't even appear to be too hungry. "I would have loved to have had some kind of go-pro (camera) on him to see where he went. Revlynn was so excited to see him back home," she said.

Strangely, relatives of the Suttons who also live in Mikado; Melissa Somers and her daughter, Chloe Bunton, also had escaped animals during August when five young pigs escaped their farm and went on a wild two-week field trip around Fowler and McConnell roads.

Somers said her daughter, Chloe, had just purchased the pigs after the Alcona County Fair and didn't have them a week when they escaped on August 16.

A search by horseback was carried out and the family had been alerted to sightings of the pigs throughout neighbors' fields and gardens which were tracked through social media. The pigs were finally captured on August 30.

"They are really quick," Somers said. "Pigs that small are hard to see in the fields. We had a group who finally circled around them and we got them all back home."

Tips and tools for coping with vision loss, best reacher-grabber tools of 2023

Dear Savvy Senior,
Can you recommend some good resources for seniors with vision loss? My husband was recently diagnosed with macular degeneration, which has deteriorated his central vision, and he's become very discouraged.

Worried Wife

Dear Worried,
I'm very sorry to hear about your husband's eye condition. Unfortunately, there are about 20 million Americans living with macular degeneration today. Over time, this progressive disease can rob people of their central vision, making everyday tasks like driving a car, reading a magazine or watching television extremely challenging. Here are some tips and resources that can help.

Low Vision Help

If your husband hasn't already done so, he needs to see a low-vision specialist for a comprehensive examination. Low-vision specialists are ophthalmologist or optometrist with additional credentials or specialization in low vision testing, diagnosis, and treatment.

A low vision exam, which is much different from a typical eye exam, will explore how your husband's eye condition is affecting his day-to-day life, how he's adapting emotionally and prescribe solutions to help him regain as much day-to-day functioning as possible.

Your next step is to get your husband to a nearby vision rehabilitation service. These services, which are run by state or nonprofit organizations, or private eye care clinics, help people with all types of uncorrectable vision impairments. Most state and nonprofit services are free or low-cost, while private clinics typically charge a fee or may accept Medicare.

While vision rehabilitation does not restore lost sight, it does help people maximize their existing sight, or, if they have no vision, it can equip them with techniques and tools to help them maintain an independent lifestyle.

Services include counseling, along with training on how to perform daily living tasks with low vision, and how to use visual and adaptive devices and assistive technologies that can help improve quality of life.

They also offer guidance for adapting your home that will make it safer and easier for your husband to maneuver and can help him locate low-vision support groups. Some agencies will even send their specialist out to work with him in the comfort of your own home.

To find a vision rehabilitation service near you ask your husband's eye doctor for a referral, or you can locate services yourself by calling the American Printing House (APH) Connect Center at (800) 232-5463.

Online Tools

Another convenient place to get help for your husband is online at VisionAware (VisionAware.org). This free website that's part of the APH Connect Center is specifically designed for older adults new to vision loss.

Hadley offers online discussion groups, audio podcasts and dozens of free online workshop videos to help empower the blind and visually impaired. With Hadley, your husband will learn new ways to do things that have become more difficult due to his vision loss and connect him with a network of peers who understand what he's going through.

Dear Savvy Senior,

Can you recommend some good reacher-grabber tools for seniors with back or hip problems who need help picking things up off the ground? I bought a cheap one a few months ago that doesn't work very well but would like to find one that does.

Bad Back Betty

Dear Bad,

A good "reacher-grabber" is a very practical and popular tool for anyone who struggles with injuries, arthritis or loss of mobility. It works like an extension of your arm allowing you to reach down and pick things up off the ground without bending or stooping over. It can also help with reaching and grabbing things in high overhead places, as well as areas that are difficult to get to.

But with so many different types of reacher-grabbers on the market today, finding a good one that works well for you is not always easy. Depending on your needs, here are some top-rated products to consider.

- All-purpose: For retrieving small and medium-sized items, the "Ettore Grip'n Grab," is a top option that can handle most chores. This 34-inch-long tool has a soft comfortable trigger handgrip and a rubberized jaw that's strong enough to lift objects up to five pounds and up to four inches wide, yet sensitive enough to pick up something as small as a dime. The jaw also rotates and locks at 90 degrees for vertical or horizontal use to help you reach things in awkward spaces.
- Lightweight: If you want a reacher primarily for retrieving small lightweight items around the house, the "RMS Featherweight the Original Reacher" is a top pick. Available in 32 and 26-inch lengths, it's made from ultra-lightweight aluminum and has a trigger-style handgrip with a serrated jaw that provides a secure grip when lifting objects.

It also has a magnet built into the tip for picking up light-weight metal objects like a paperclip, and a small hook (or horn) that aids in retrieving things like clothes, shoes or keys. It even has a built-in clip on the arm so you can attach it to canes, walkers and wheelchairs. But, because of its super-lightweight design, it doesn't work well at retrieving heavier items like canned goods from shelves.

- Foldable: For easier storage, the top selling folding grabber is the "Zayad Reacher Grabber Tool," which is 32-inches long and has a slip-joint in the arm that allows it to easily fold in half. It also has a soft ergonomic grip with a rubberized, rotating jaw that can lift objects up to three pounds and up to four inches wide.
- Heavy-duty: For heavier-lifting jobs or for outdoor use, the "Unger Nifty Nabber" is a top choice. Available in 36 and 48-inch lengths, this sturdy tool has a rubber-coated heavy-duty claw that grips small, large, and odd-shaped items with ease. It also has a built-in magnet for picking up small metal objects, an ergonomic squeeze-grip handle and can lift 8 pounds.

Where to Buy
You can buy reacher-grabbers at many pharmacies, retail, medical equipment and home improvement stores. But, because it's a specialty item, the selection is very limited. Your best bet is to buy one online at Amazon.com, which sells all of the top reacher-grabbers at prices ranging from around $10 to $20. Just type the product name in the search bar to find it.

Buggy Rides

Pile driver falls, one man dies

Six Men Carried Into River When Crash Came
September 6, 1923 ~ Friday afternoon the big pile driver working on the east side of AuSable River at Bamfield dam went down, carrying the entire crew of six men into the river.

Roy Curley, a young married man was killed instantly, being crushed between the hoisting drum and the motor.

The other members of the crew escaped with comparatively minor injuries. Reuben Simon's right arm was badly bruised. Eli Shinevar had his foot and leg bruised and another man (name not given) was severely cut about the head and face. The accident happened when the river was at high tide and that there were not more fatalities is considered miraculous.

Funeral services for Mr. Curley were held Monday afternoon at the home, with interment in the Curtisville cemetery.

The deceased is survived by the widow and one child, with whom a host of friends mourn his untimely and tragic end.

Three have narrow escape on M-72

September 6, 1923 ~ An aged woman, a youth and a babe in arms had a narrow escape from permanent injury or worse Sunday evening when the buggy in which they were riding was struck and demolished by a fast moving automobile on M-72 opposite Duncan Campbell's farm a mile and a quarter west of Harrisville.

The machine, a Ford touring car, was badly damaged, the radiator being the ruined fan spindle, axle, fender, wheel and lights in bad shape. The horse suffered a gash in the shoulder.

Both parties were going west. The occupants of the buggy were Mrs. J. M. Fettes of Haynes, and her great-grandchild, the seven month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heiweyer, and Will E. Anderson, son of J. Wm. Anderson. Harold Conklin, owner and driver of the auto, was accompanied by Bert Swales. Both were shaken up and bruised somewhat.

Mrs. Fettes was going to have charge of the J. W.

Anderson household for a short time and the boy was sent with the horse to bring her over from Campbells where she was visiting her daughter. Mrs. Fettes held the babe in her lap. They drove out of the Campbell lane, crossed M-72 to the north side and had proceeded west but a short distance when the crash came. All three were rendered unconscious. Mrs. Fettes and the baby were taken to the Campbell home and the injured boy to his home and a physician summoned. Mrs. Fettes, who is 72, is severely bruised about the head and shoulders and is suffering from shock. The baby was cut on the head. Will Anderson has a sprained ankle and bruises on the head, shoulder and arm, and suffered severely.

The accident occurred just at dusk. The driver of the car says the lights of an on-coming auto blinded him and he did not see the buggy until it was too late to avoid striking it.

Hank's IGA entered

September 6, 1973 ~ The Friendly IGA Market in Harrisville was broken into again sometime Monday night.

According to the owner, Henry Gauthier, nothing was reported missing. The safe was tampered with but was not entered.

Entry was made by knocking in the back door.

The Alcona County Sheriff's Department is investigating.

Moments In Time

By The History Channel

- On Sept. 18, 1769, John Harris, a spinet and harpsichord maker from Boston, completed the first spinet piano to be made in America. Upon its debut, the Boston Gazette averred that the instrument "in every respect does honour to that artist."
 - On Sept. 19, 1676, Nathaniel Bacon and an army of rebel followers made up of farmers, slaves and indentured servants, set fire to Jamestown, the capital of the Virginia colony, in what came to be known as Bacon's Rebellion, a civil war that pitted Bacon against Virginia governor Sir William Berkeley.
 - On Sept. 20, 1942, as part of the British war effort to conserve fuel, citizens were requested to bathe in no more than 5 inches of water. The royal family even painted black lines on all the household bathtubs at said depth, and put up posters around the palace with reminders of the need to conserve energy.
 - On Sept. 21, 2012, David Villalobos jumped from the Wild Asia monorail train into a tiger den at the Bronx Zoo and was mauled by a 400-pound Siberian tiger named Bachuta. Quick-thinking employees chased the animal away using a fire extinguisher, and Villalobos, though injured, was able to roll under a wire to safety and survived.
 - On Sept. 22, 1999, Saudi Arabia joined other Arab countries in a threat to boycott the Walt Disney entertainment company as a protest against the Israeli exhibit at the millennium show in Florida, which portrayed Jerusalem as the capital of Israel.
 - On Sept. 23, 1989, foggy conditions led to one of the worst days for accidents on the German Autobahn, with five vehicular pileups involving 256 cars and a large number of serious injuries. The Autobahns in Germany have no speed limits, and cars sometimes travel as fast as 140 mph.
 - On Sept. 24, 1906, Devil's Tower (also called Grizzly Bear Lodge) in northeastern Wyoming was named America's first national monument. The tower is a sacred site for many Plains Indians, and also a popular site for rock climbing.

Strange But True

By Lucie Winborne

- In 2014, there was a school in Turin, Italy, that had just one teacher and one student. Though the latter admitted to being lonely, officials decided to keep the school open as long as at least one pupil was enrolled.
- Altocalciphilia is the medical term for a shoe addiction.
- Embryonic bats go through a stage called "peek-a-boo," when their wings grow to cover their eyes.
- Muhammad Ali's star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame is the only star that is not on the sidewalk, but on the wall of the Kodak Theatre, to honor the boxing champ's request that he "did not want to be walked on."
- Pennies are used to adjust the time in London's famous Big Ben clock tower. A single cent can change the pendulum's center of mass and alter the time by 0.4 seconds per day.
- Michael Bay filmed Megan Fox washing his Ferrari as her audition for "Transformers."
- Halley's Comet has two correct pronunciations. It can rhyme with "daily" or "valley" since its discoverer, Edmond Halley, spelled his name six different ways during his lifetime.
- The 2003 invasion of Iraq was originally dubbed "Operation Iraqi Liberation" but quickly changed due to the fact its acronym spelled out "oil."
- After learning that her husband had been killed in World War II, Mariya Oktyabrskaya sold everything she owned to donate a tank to the Soviet Red Army, with the condition that she be allowed to drive it. When the tank was hit by gunfire, she would not only risk her own life to jump out and repair it, but ended up becoming the first female tanker to receive the Hero of the Soviet Union award.
